Come Join Us For A Bikin' Blast

Come feel the energy of cycling with a group that grinds out all the long climbs, flies across the flats, sprints up the hillsides and ALWAYS finishes together. Add some kickin' music and have what we call Bikin' Blast.

Have more fun when you ride outdoors by developing your strength and skills indoors during the winter months. We offer 5 solid months of cycling classes from early November until late March.

In the Bikin' Blast Training Center at Plano Cycling & Fitness, everyone rides their own bike on a magnetic trainer. This allows participants to ride a bike that fits while providing a full range of resistance options. Wear your cycling apparel and gloves for comfort, but you can leave your helmet at home. Towels are encouraged and water is a must.

Whether you are just getting started or you're a seasoned cyclist looking for winter conditioning, we've got classes to fit your need and schedule. Our class schedule offers 2 distinct formats. The Bikin' Blast Class was developed by blending anaerobic work with aerobic intervals, all choreographed to music. The Power Blast Classes will use a format developed by blending techniques used by Meiji Reoch, Chris Carmichael and Bikin' Mike. It uses timed intervals with music going to help you along the way. All workouts are designed by Bikin' Mike.

You can pay by the class, by the month or prepay the 5 month season.

Best of all – no traffic, weather or crashes to worry about. So come join us. We'll have a Bikin' Blast!
